

About Us

We are currently a small group of volunteers that want to bring the diaper bank concept to Utah. We do not accept monetary contributions and we are all unpaid volunteers. If you would like to donate please drop off diapers at one of our collection points. If you would like to volunteer please contact us at volunteer@utahdiaperbank.org. Better still organize a diaper drive we'll come pick up all diapers that you collect.

Diaper Bank History

The Diaper Bank movement began in 1994 when a small consulting firm decided to give back to their local community during the holiday season. Resolve Inc., located in Tucson, Arizona began their philanthropic endeavor by collecting diapers for a local crisis nursery. Their annual diaper collection tradition continued, and only five years later they were able to collect 300,000 diapers for 30 different agencies

How Does It Work

In communities throughout the country, civic groups, churches, businesses and concerned citizens organize diaper drives to collect diapers for donation to local diaper banks. Diaper drives are a great way to engage your family, friends, neighbors and co-workers in the fight against diaper need. They are also an important tool for educating your community about diaper need and helping give voice to this silent crisis.
